Rocket Engineer Will Speak on Flying Saucers

Daniel W. Fry, missile expert and internationally known in flying-saucer research, will address the Inglewood Unit 15 of Understanding Saturday at 8 p.m. Fry is founder and national president of Understanding, and will speak on the unit's first anniversary at the Darby Park Recreation Center, 3400 Arbor Vitae, Inglewood.

Fry worked with Caltech on the double-base propellant missile for the country's armed forces. From 1949 to 1955 he was employed by Aerojet General. During the second year of his employment with Aerojet an event occurred that demonstrated severe limitations of the rocket concept.

That event was the now-famous "White Sands Incident" during which Fry was invited aboard a remote-controlled saucer and taken on from White Sands Proving Grounds, N.M., to New York and back in 30 minutes. A resident of West Covina, Fry is vice-president in charge of research and design engineer of Crescent Engineering and Research Company of El Monte, a firm which had several parts in the recent successful Atlas satellite.

He has written three books, "The White Sands Incident," "To Men of Earth," and "Steps to the Stars."
